

Intercultural Competence and Cultural Capability

IRIS

Intercultural Competence and Cultural Capability

- Conflation of intellect with language fluency
- Importance of choreographing groups
- Encouraging people to move from their 'comfort zones'
- Creating a space to ask the 'embarrassing questions'
- Being inclusive

IRIS

Intercultural Competence and Cultural Capability

- Taking care not to focus only on the dominant perspectives of the context – valuing alternative knowledges
- Pace of speaking
- Postcolonial issues

IRIS

Internationalisation of the Curriculum

Workshop One:

- 'The teaching and learning arrangements'
- 'Pedagogies'
- 'How these interact with the local and the personal'
- 'Inter-cultural capabilities'
- 'Different value systems'

IRIS
